WHAT DO YOU WANT TO SAY IN YOUR AUTOBIOGRAPHY?

Creating a Range Rover Autobiography is very much an act of self-expression. Each customer is intimately involved in the process of selecting materials, colours and high-technology accompaniments for their Autobiography. Once the specifications are settled, a team of craftsmen from Land Rover Special Vehicles sets to work using the finest materials in the world and time-honoured techniques to create an incomparable, hand-finished masterpiece. No two Autobiography vehicles are exactly alike. Each reflects its owner's unique sense of style and taste. It's your Autobiography. What do you want to say?

CELEBRATE YOUR INDIVIDUALITY

ANY COLOUR IN THE RAINBOW

The exterior colour of each Range Rover Autobiography is hand-selected by the customer and hand-finished by Land Rover Special Vehicles. Highly skilled craftsmen spend more than 100 hours stripping, painting and wet-sanding the Autobiography's body panels to create an exquisite exterior finish that an automated system simply could not duplicate.

In painting your Autobiography, you can opt for any colour under the sun. Simply provide Land Rover Special Vehicles with a sample of the colour you desire, and Land Rover Special Vehicles will paint your Autobiography to match. Should you like a starting-point for making a decision, Land Rover's styling experts have created a range of 25 special Autobiography paint colours to consider. Beyond this palette, the sky's the limit.

The ability to customise your Autobiography's exterior encompasses far more than specifying a one-of-a-kind colour. The exterior hue can be applied to just about every outside surface. Bumpers and grille, sills and wing mirrors, even the road wheels can be painted to match. The Autobiography badge can be finished in gold or chrome...or deleted entirely for an understated look. Window glass, too, can be tinted with several levels of shading. Think of the entire vehicle as a canvas and put yourself in the position of the artist.

The seats are upholstered in a two-tone leather: cream-colored for the main body and purple with horizontal ribbing for the backrests and seat cushions. The seats are arranged in a staggered fashion, showing both the front and rear bench seating. The lighting is soft, highlighting the texture of the leather.

INTERIOR ENHANCEMENTS TO SUIT

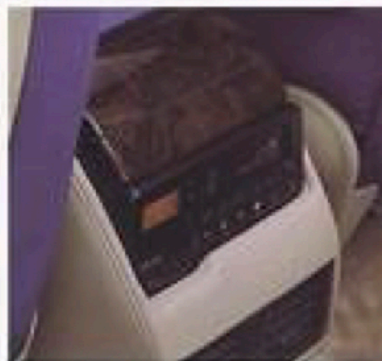

Express yourself with your Autobiography's interior – the design possibilities are virtually boundless. There are over 30,000 combinations for the seat design alone. The decisions don't stop there, though. Consider the wood and leather trim, and the chromium highlights for the interior surfaces. And then contemplate finishing touches, such as exquisite walnut picnic tables and plush lambswool rugs.

Just about every interior surface in the Autobiography can be finished in sumptuous leather or luxurious burr walnut...or a combination of both. The steering wheel, for example, can be colour-keyed leather or leather and wood. The gear selector knob, too, can be covered in walnut or leather.

When crafting your Autobiography's seats, Land Rover Special Vehicles begins with the highest 'Cheshire grade' leather. The customer specifies every design element, including the fluting, piping and colour combinations. Land Rover craftsmen then hand-sew and hand-fit the materials to ensure proper fit. The rear seats can be further refined with the addition of seat warmers and a console that can house a fax machine, entertainment system, refrigerator or mini-bar. The time spent in planning your Autobiography's interior will result in a unique expression of your desires, and a vehicle like no other on the road.

TECHNOLOGY AT YOUR FINGERTIPS

When creating your Autobiography, you may choose from a host of high-technology systems, seamlessly weaving 21st-century sophistication with old-world craftsmanship. Land Rover Special Vehicles can outfit your Autobiography with dual screen monitors, a video system, a fax machine, a refrigerator, a mini-bar, symphonic sound and a global positioning satellite navigation system. Each item is elegantly integrated into the interior and surrounded by the same rich leather and wood that adorns the rest of the Autobiography's surfaces.

The satellite navigation system's screen fits neatly in the dash and provides continuous positioning information as well as trip-planning services. The screen can double as a television set* and can be linked into the on-board VCR. In all, you can outfit your Autobiography with three screens by adding two additional monitors in back of the front-seat headrests. Rear passengers who wish to view the monitors have two audio options. They can either play the soundtrack via the vehicle's audio system for full cinematic effect, or alternatively, viewers can use remote headsets linked to the vehicle via infrared communication, thereby eliminating cords. In fact, there is no reason for your Autobiography to lack any of the communication and entertainment systems that you rely upon in your home.
